Daily Life of Mission Indians (Handout #3)

People who lived at the Mission grew and made almost everything they needed. In order to do this, everyone had a job. Review the jobs performed by the Mission Indians below. Select a job and complete the following tasks.

1. Describe what you would do in order to complete your task.
2. List all the necessary supplies you would need for your task.
3. Draw a picture of you doing your work at the Mission.

Examples of jobs performed at the Mission:

- Making soap and candles from tallow.
- Grinding corn and making tortillas.
- Tending to the crops.
- Herding and/or caring for the livestock such as cattle, sheep, and goats.
- Branding calves.
- Weaving wool for cloth.
- Heating limestone in large ovens to make mortar.
